Col. Warren Directs Negro Business Aid Office Ward Urges Newark Negroes Strive To Solve Problems Through The Ballot

Newark's Negro Population In Majority, Political Future Certain If He Votes

NEWARK — Col. Warren, Democratic chairman of Newark's Central Ward, who is Newark's oldest powerful Negro political figure, following the election of 1964 Negroes to the state and county offices, declared that Negro citizens and especially those of the city of Newark need only but organize to take to the ballot the method by which they are certain to correct out and remedy every major racial problem facing them.

The Col. Warren said that the Negro population of Newark is now in the majority and that the political future of the city is certain if the Negroes vote.

J. Hughes and the other County Democratic state office holders had it not for the presence of the United Freedom Party ticket to win election to the state house, he would have received a greater majority over Republican senate candidate Senator C. Robert Sarcione who received 136,815 votes to the Doctor's 136,655.

The Central Ward Chairman said the 10,000 or more votes credited to the disgruntled political group, it is safe to assume

Urban League To Sponsor Annual Dinner

The Urban League of Essex County will hold its ninth annual Equal Opportunity Day Dinner Tuesday Nov. 16 at the Military Park Hotel.

More than 400 persons representing business and civic groups are expected to attend. Featured speaker for the evening is Robert D. Lilley, president of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. The dinner program will include the presentation of the league's annual award to a company in Essex County which made an outstanding contribution to equal opportunity employment during the year.

Kenyon C. Burke, associate executive director of the Urban League, will report on the organization's accomplishments during 1964.

The Equal Opportunity Day celebration is a drive aimed at providing the community with the services of the Urban League. The celebration is held annually at the Military Park Hotel on Tuesday, Nov. 16.

The Urban League of Essex County is a non-profit organization dedicated to the elimination of racial discrimination in housing, employment, and education.

Southern Graduate Employed By Yale In Admission Post

NEW HAVEN — A young Negro educator, Willie C. Robinson, 36 years old last week was appointed an assistant director of admissions at Yale University.

The old Uncle Tom Question asked so often by both Northern and Southern born Negroes, "What school did he graduate from, I know he didn't graduate from a Southern College or University." In this case it was clearly made to look as ridiculous as the question is.

Mr. Robinson, for the benefit of those Uncle Tom thinking Negroes, is a native of Dunn, North Carolina. He graduated in 1956 from Agricultural and Technical College (A & T) in Greensboro, North Carolina. He holds a master's degree in education from the University of North Carolina.

Conviction Is Reversed By Alabama Court

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — The Alabama Court of Appeals on Tuesday threw out the conviction of the Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth for parading without a permit in Birmingham in 1956 during a civil rights rally.

The Shuttlesworth, minister of the First Baptist Church in Birmingham, was convicted of violating a city ordinance requiring permits for parades.

Democrat Win Means Mandate For Progress

TRENTON — Gov. Richard J. Hughes said last week that he considered his legislative election for Governor to be the state's first step toward progress.

Gov. Hughes said that the victory of the Democrats in the state legislature was a mandate for progress and that he would use his influence to bring about the necessary reforms.

Gov. Hughes said that the victory of the Democrats in the state legislature was a mandate for progress and that he would use his influence to bring about the necessary reforms.

The Democrats stand at their political zenith in the state. They have controlled the Governor's office for 12 years and now have four more. They will have wide margins of control in the Senate and Assembly for at least two years. They enjoy an 11 to 4 majority in the state's

City Hospital Seeks Students For Nursing

NEWARK — The Newark City Hospital School of Nursing through their Recruitment Department are again launching their program to recruit the best qualified local students for the nursing profession.

The purpose of the School of Nursing at Newark City Hospital is to provide the best nursing care for the citizens of the City of Newark.

The faculty under the direction of Mrs. Rosalie Lappe, Director of the School of Nursing at Newark City Hospital and Mrs. John L. Lappe, Jr., Dean of the School of Nursing, are seeking to change the image of the nursing profession.

majority of 354,000 votes, swept into office with him five Negro Legislators including the eminent Dr. Hutchins Inge of Essex County who was elected state Senator.

Dr. Inge is the first Negro in the history of New Jersey to have been elected to the upper branch of the state legislature.

The other four Negroes elected to the state legislature included: Assemblyman Rev. S. Howard Woodson, Jr., Baptist minister, former Trenton City Councilman and once headed the New Jersey Conference of NAACP branches; Ronald Owen, young Newark attorney; Arnold E. Brown, attorney of Englewood, vice president Bergen

Tate Praises Business Aid Organization

NEWARK — Attorney Richard H. Tate, co-president of the New Jersey Council for Negro Business, said Sunday that the opening of an office in Newark to advise Negroes on how to expand their efforts in business through information on technical problems and how to secure loans from banks should be the answer to the Negro's economic problems.

Mr. Tate said he would advise Negroes on how to expand their efforts in business through information on technical problems and how to secure loans from banks should be the answer to the Negro's economic problems.

The Council is not interested in business will be under the direction of the Council.

Assault Of Rights Workers Stir Action For New Laws

WASHINGTON — The Leadership Conference on Civil Rights met last Thursday to discuss the need for Federal legislation to protect Negroes and civil rights workers in the South against assault "with racial purpose."

The leadership conference is made up of more than 60 organizations. It played a prominent role in the battle for the omnibus Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Voting Rights Act this year.

Nearly 100 representatives of the member organizations discussed a 14-page memo today on "potential assaults of Federal legislation to protect and help civil rights workers in the South."

Bams Brings Caravan Out Of The East

The wondrous legends of the romantic East have been elaborately researched, designed and constructed — after many months of preparation. The around the clock display work schedule has ended as the pieces have been painstakingly put together, and set in their designated areas throughout Bamberger's stores for all New Jersey to view appreciative approval starting this week.

As each visitor comes through the portals of Bamberger's — he seldom stops to wonder how, in the short season of Christmas, the stores have transmuted themselves into the sights, sound and scents of the most wonderful of all holiday seasons.

Mr. McCorkle has shed some insight into the vast planning necessary for such a great presentation as "Caravan Out of the East." After the theme is set, this in itself a tremendous project, he and his large creative staff prepare sketches that are posted throughout the department, as are color swatches, books of the period, so that each staff member actually lives and works within the theme, and thus the mood is set.

This year, Bamberger's will put forth the glorious colorful era of the Venetian Marco Polo, who brought the Far East home to Italy, after 24 years.

CONTINENTAL FEATURES —

the reason why visitors from all over the world will be coming to Succasunna, N. J.

This unassuming building in a small town in Morris County will be drawing men from Europe, Asia, Latin America, and just about everywhere else. They will not be casual visitors, but communications experts. Often the top men in their own countries. They will be coming for a look at the future—ECO—the new Electronic Central Office that makes New Jersey the home of the most advanced telephone service in the world.

ECO has been described as a "fundamental breakthrough in communications." Its revolutionary electronic switching system makes possible many remarkable new telephone services.

ECO is now being tested in the Succasunna area. Several new services are being tried now by two hundred telephone customers there:

Abbreviated Dialing. You dial only three or four digits to make your connection. Variable Call Transfer. Suppose you're going to be away from home for the evening. Before leaving, by dialing a special code and a telephone number, you can have incoming calls automatically transferred to the place where you are going.

Fixed Call Transfer. In much the same way, you can have calls transferred to pre-selected numbers by dialing just a few digits.

Dial Conference. You can set up a "conference" call with two or three other persons quickly and simply by dialing a special code and the numbers you want. Add-on Conference. While having a telephone conversation, you can have a third person join in. You simply dial a special code followed by his phone number.

These are just a few of the new services an electronic switching office may make possible for you someday. There are literally dozens of other communications advances that can easily be programmed into an ECO. Small wonder communications men all over the world are interested—and coming to see what will be happening to your phone service in the future.

Global Portraits

By Lou LaTour

Correspondence from BARRE, VERMONT gives us the kind of information which makes our 'GLOBAL PORTRAITS' proud to salute Mr. and Mrs. JACK GARELICK who are engaged in a personal crusade aimed at fostering WORLD PEACE and BROTHERHOOD through their incorporated charity Project MUSIC MISSION FOR WORLD PEACE, and have been carrying on this splendid work for a few years—alone too, with Mr. Garelick being a totally disabled veteran.

The unique thing about this project MUSIC MISSION FOR WORLD PEACE is that the husband and wife as a 'Team' have composed some fifty Peace Hymns and sent out at their own expense over 5,000 copies to every nation—Ambassadors, Senators, Governors and Religious Leaders. Something like our own 'La Chorus, Inc.' which at our own expense continues to send out Cheer Cards, Messages and Help to students, the aged and those in need. Seems as if this project which directly helps others to help themselves to live more abundant lives, must thrive without too much help from the general public. But there is a great satisfaction in knowing that you are doing some good in the world in which you live, and that is just what the project is all about.

Among their songs, 'PRAY FOR PEACE' received special commendation from Mrs. Soon As Kim, Dean of Music at Ewha University, Seoul, Korea. And we are so pleased to quote a paragraph from a letter she sent the Garelicks: Concerning 'Pray For Peace' 'I think even the very young Korean generation will be delighted with its melodic quality. I am now spiritually wit you and your work, and whenever I sing or listen to your hymns I can keep 'Peace' in my mind.'

We feel that each of you would enjoy working with such a project if only by your Praying for World Peace because such is surely needed now and always. So let us just give you a few lines from the precious song 'PRAY FOR PEACE'—words of which were written by Arwin Fletcher Garelick and music by the husband, Jack Garelick: 'Live each day in God's way, Shorn of hate at life's gate; Be a friend 'round the bend; Pray for Peace.'

"Doc" WILSON THE MAN WHO KNOWS

Dear Doc' Wilson

My grandfather reads your column every week. He subscribed for the paper and waits for the mailman to deliver it like an animal waits for his master. He won't let anyone read any part of it until he finishes, that's why you'll find my subscription in this letter. He is 94 years of age. He is a wonderful man, and he seems to live from week to week only to read what you write, one thing is for sure—he tells us what's in it a thousand times during the week, so naturally we're happy when the new edition arrives. Grandfather is a true Wilson believer. J. C., that's grandfather, feels that the Ginseng Root he reads about will also put him in the running again. Will it?

ANSWER:

Thank grandfather for being such a loyal fan and reader, and tell him to forget about the root. At 94, he can do just as well with yeast cake or self-rising flour.

P.S.—I just got a wild thought. Gramps just might be a young 94 so let's give him a crutch if he can use it. Tell him there is a preparation that can help him reach the road to success. He should try "Elbow Grease."

Dear Doc' Wilson

You have given us New Yorkers very little of your time, yet you find ample time for Florida, Georgia and the Middle-west. When do we get a break?

ANSWER:

Sweetie, you're jealous. I will remain in New York City at the House of Good Fortune. And I do mean Good Fortune, until January 1st. How's that?—Call, make your appointment and the Baby Boy will be available. Incidentally, the biggest meeting this organization has ever had will be written about next week. It will do something no one can afford to miss.

"837"

If there ever was a Santa Claus this baby was it. More than two thousand Jersey passengers rode this train. Seven hundred or more passengers in Brooklyn, plus those they told, had a successful ride, and please don't let me frighten you with the enormous figure of ticket carriers throughout the United States who had choice seats on this Gravy Train. For those who lost faith, I have a full supply of Crying Towels.

Dear Doc' Wilson

I am the elderly lady who came up to you in Ft. Pierce, Fla., when you stood soaking wet under that big tree helping all those people. I told you I had no money, but asked would you answer one question for me, and you nodded yes. My question was did you see a 7 in the near future as I had a dream. You said a seven would be showing its face many times in the coming weeks, well, this letter is to thank you because "A seven" arrived the very next day. I am sending you a ten pound sack of pecans as I promised. By-the-way Doc', you are a good looking man.

ANSWER:

Keep your mind on your business mother. The seven will return many times, but not solo. It will come as a tall on a kite.

Dear Doc' Wilson

I had a little luck on the 837 and I am a happy soul. I wasn't able to go as heavy as I wanted to go but I did enough to pay off the balance due on the house, get the children some school clothes, and get me a wig and a few new dresses, and get my husband back home. As I told you before, he left me for another woman who lives cross town, but when he heard about my hit, he loved me again. I wanted him back, and will take him back, but he will never see the color of this good Brooklyn money. What should I do now?

ANSWER:

Be careful.

REASON

I am your friend, and I wish to be that friend whether you wish me to be or not.—Being a friend is a difficult job, especially when my thoughts and reasoning about friendship runs the way it does. I will tell you "no" when I know the answer should be "No."

If I tried, I could not answer all the letters piled up in my office, yet I can answer all or most of them and get the message across if you will only read what I write and allow it to soak in.

"BIG STORY"

Dear Doc' Wilson

I am in desperate need of help. I got into trouble in a certain town over a year ago. I "fondled" a female under twelve years of age. I confessed this crime in a written statement the day it happened. I have a very good Negro lawyer. He has done a wonderful job and is still doing so—He has got the sentence down to six months, and he is fighting for a suspended sentence, which I feel sure he will win.

I have a wife and two children in another town, by town which I have lost contact with. I have lost time on my job and I fear that I will probably lose my job; what can I do?

ANSWER:

Dear Sir: I have a seventeen year old daughter, and if you had fondled her, or "raped her" I would have searched for you and found you even if it was in ALASKA.—A child with a forward thought can be easy temptation, but an old fart like you should know better, at least you know where the "red light district" is, or a district of its kind.—I can't print your letter in its entirety because if I did it would take hours, but I do reach the important points. Would you like to hear them? You're going to anyway.

ANSWER:

I hope your lawyer fails, and I hope I am somewhere near when the judge gives you 99 years and

A DARK DAY.—Because I doesn't than it's time for Alaska. I've decided recently that I will plague the Judge.—CHILDREN CHILDREN'S CHILDREN.—And probably his CHILDREN, CHILDREN'S CHILDREN. Lord, What a horrible aftermath.

HENRY HENRIK E. ROSENBERG, the Russian-born University student, was arrested in New York City last week by the Buffalo Police. Apparently, a similar arrest is being made in London, according to a dispatch from the New York Times. Rosenberg is the son of a Russian immigrant, and was in the United States on a tourist visa. He is said to be a member of the American Youth League, and is a member of the Communist Party. He is said to be a member of the Communist Party, and is said to be a member of the Communist Party.

The New York Giants under Coach Allie Sherman we feel have made considerable progress when one takes into consideration the unusual large number of rookies on the team, especially in defensive halfback work. Erlen Tump, the defensive backfield coach has done an impeccable job. In Tucker Frederickson, the Giants have a fine young fullback who will in time become the top fullback in the National Football League. Earl Marshall's experience at the quarterback slot has helped tremendously. The Giants may not win the eastern divisional championship in the National Football League this season but come pick up all the marbles next season.

Shriver Is For Policy Program Including Poor

WASHINGTON — Sargent Shriver stated last week that the policy of involving the poor in the antipoverty program at the community level would continue without change.

Mr. Shriver, who heads the Office of Economic Opportunity, said he had not been ordered by anyone to change his interpretation of a requirement in the law for maximum feasible participation of the poor in the development and conduct of community programs financed through his agency.

Essex Residents Urged To Sign Up For Medicare

Many Essex County residents who are 65 years of age or over have not signed up for Medicare. William J. Arnold, Social Security District Manager in Newark, announced this morning that he was going to make a house-to-house canvass to get them signed up.

Arnold said that all persons who will be 65 years of age on or before January 1, 1966, must enroll for the medical insurance part of Medicare by

Southern Rebels Cry Out Against Negro Boycott

NAATCHEZ — A group of white businessmen said last week that Negro leaders did not call off an economic boycott here by Wednesday of this week unless employees would be discharged and housewives would be asked to lay off their domestic help.

The warning came in a statement issued by white businessmen who said they represented a wide segment of the Naatchez economy.

NEW YORK — This could be called the age of the computer, but despite all the marvelous feats that can be accomplished by these electronic machines, it still takes the human touch to make them work properly and effectively.

A key in this is the programmer. He analyzes problems, finds out what the computer must do to solve them, and then puts the instructions into a language or program that directs the computer how to come up with the answers.

They Did It Again

The re-election of Charles A. Matthews, Deputy Director of the Essex County Board of Freeholders Tuesday, November 2, 1965 was truly a demonstration of democracy in action. When supporters of the freeholder were clamoring for campaign activity and time was running out, stouthearted Matthews turned to the names of two men whom he knew, despite the few remaining weeks before election, who would unhesitatingly give direction and support to his campaign for re-election to the Essex County Board of Freeholders without question or doubt.

These two men who had been with Matthews in two previous campaigns involving the Board of Freeholders are Edward (Ed) Sheppard of 82 Fourth Avenue, Newark, and Lee Loei of 252 Division Avenue, Belleville. These two white men, Sheppard and Loei, both recognized, as respected and astute politicians, agreed to accept another eleventh hour political challenge.

Hand in hand Ed Sheppard, as Campaign Chairman, and Lee Loei, as Director of Political Action, moved together in political triumph.

Sheppard and Loei found cause for jubilation and even hope for victory upon witnessing the successful October 24th testimonial for their standard bearer, attended equally by both races.

Sheppard and Loei were with the Freeholder in 1961 when he ran for the unexpired term of Freeholder William (Scotty) MacDonald; again in 1962 when he ran for a full three year term.

Sheppard and Loei could hardly believe the election returns as they came in election night, when it became known that the two of them had "DONE IT AGAIN" with their beloved "Charlie."

NEW POVERTY PROGRAM AIDS TO HELP POOR, STOP CITY GRAB

Washington — A new, privately financed organization dedicated to the eradication of poverty announced last week it would train 1,000 community workers to organize the poor and show them how to participate more effectively in local antipoverty programs.

The plan if it works, carries profound significance for City Halls throughout the country. Big city Mayors, now resisting demands of the poor for a voice in shaping community antipoverty programs, may be confronted by a new force that will try to influence the patterns of municipal government generally.

The organization calls itself the Citizens Crusade Against Poverty. It is a nonpartisan grouping of more than 120 organizations and leaders of religious, civil rights, labor, academic, business, student and farm groups.

U. S. Alde Hende Gress, Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers, is chairman. His union has made an initial commitment of $1 million to the organization, which was formally set up some months ago.

Executive director is Richard W. Bland, who holds a high ranking position in the anti-poverty

Sargent Shriver, director of the Government's campaign against poverty. He is a graduate of the University of Chicago with a master's degree in sociology.

The Citizens Crusade Against Poverty and the Government's campaign are parallel efforts, broadly speaking, but it is the crusade's further purpose to see that the Government drive does not falter and that mayors do not exercise monopoly power over community action programs financed by the Federal Government.

BISHOP OF ST. JUDE
UNION METHODIST CHURCH INC.

A woman who was converted to Christ at the 1962 Chicago Crusade wrote to a friend recently, "I have learned that there is a difference between being a servant of God and a child of God." Without knowing it, she had driven a nail into one of the most profound theological issues of the day.

A whole theology has sprung up in recent years around the idea of "servanthood." Books are rolling off the presses describing the "servant image of the church." What does it mean? Basically, it seems to mean that the church was called into existence by God as a vast humanitarian enterprise. The servant church is the church that is geared to good deeds, that aims to help others, that is sensitive to the needs of men. It is foot-washing writ large.

No one can deny or impugn such worthy goals in the name of Christ. Nor is there any doubt that we are called of God to be his servants. The Psalmist is overjoyed to be a doorkeeper in the house of the Lord. Every Christian has sensed the joy that comes in the service of God and man.

But God never began or stopped there. Christ never began or stopped there. "Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth; but I have called you friends (John 15:15). "Moses verily was faithful in all his house, as a servant... but Christ as a son over his own house: whose house are we" (Hebrews 3:6-8). "God doeth with you as with sons" (Hebrews 12:7). "Beloved, now are we the sons of God" (1 John 3:2).

Let no one doubt that the church has its humanitarian role. But if that be all; if servanthood is the best there is; if this be the central image of the Gospel, then we are of all men most miserable. For we are left on the outside looking in, knowing the duties of the Christian life but none of its joys.

What a relief it is to leave all such. What a marvel it is that our friends' words are true. There is a difference. We do not have to be cast as servants, but can be the Sons of God — sons and daughters of God. Once we seize and hold fast to the truth as it is in Jesus Christ, we become joint heirs with him. We become not servants of men but brothers. As Mencklin wrote, I knew that Christ had given me birth.

To breathe all the souls of earth
And we serve God not as slaves or servants, but as his children.

THE REV. A. ALEXANDER, 1st DISTRICT, 15th ST., NEWARK, N.J.

For his part, Alexander, who is a graduate of L.I.U., A.B. and Ph.D. and an alumnus of New York Law School, N.Y. University, Columbia University and Union Theological Seminary, and Rutgers University.

Since it has well been stated all law is based on ecclesiastical law, Mr. Lewis brought to his ministry considerable preparation for coping with religious tenets. For before entering the ministry, he was a practicing attorney, and President for 12 years of the Young People's Dept. of the Connecticut Baptist Missionary Convention. His first pastorate was Mt. Olive Baptist Church, Saratoga Springs, N.Y.

Married to the former Lillie Cassandra, whom he met in the field of religion, and city of N.Y., while she was working as a servant, one son, Austin A. Jr. was born to this marriage, and they have also reared three foster children.

Rev. Lewis is actively engaged in national as well as local community life, being member of the Newark Ministerial Conference, Elizabeth Ministerial Assn., General Baptist Convention board member, New England Baptist Church School & B.T.U., Middlesex Central Baptist Assn., the auditor of New England Baptist Ministry Convention, Vice President of Hampton Institute Ministerial Conference, Chairman Finance Middlesex Central Baptist Assn.

He is also a member and a past president of Elizabeth Council of the Churches, a member of the Bishop's Committee on Education and Social Change Community groups.

American Protestants gave more than $1 billion to their churches last year.

That is a record. It represents an increase of about 4 per cent over the preceding year.

For the first time in history, the total amount of money given to churches last year was more than $1 billion.

According to the National Council report, the total amount of money given to churches last year was more than $1 billion, an increase of about 4 per cent over the preceding year.

As usual, local churches spent most of the money they received on themselves. The National Council report showed that 81 per cent of the total contributions went for "congregational expenses" — paying the minister's salary, heating and lighting the church, repairing the roof, buying Sunday School materials, etc. Only 18 per cent was passed along to home and foreign missions, seminaries and other "benevolences."

Dividing the total contributions by the total membership of the reporting denominations (including children above the age of 13), the National Council calculated that the average American Protestant gave his church $71.20.

GIVING RISE
This per capita figure was up 2.7 per cent from the preceding year. It is a largely meaningless figure since the average hides great extremes, from the large contributions of tithing families to the Christmas and Easter churchgoer.

To Free Methodists Church, which has 54,000 members, retained its place as the denomination with the highest per-member giving figure — $100, or nearly five times the national average.

The 20,000-member Wesleyan Methodist Church was second with $83.

THIRD PLACE
The Seventh Day Adventist Church, had its figure boosted, would have ranked third, its average members gave $71.

The only large Protestant denomination to place within the top 10 in per-member giving was the Lutheran Church — $60.

The Rev. Dr. T. J. Morgan, president of the National Council of Churches, said that the increase in giving was a sign of a new spiritual awakening in America.

Rehabilitation Devise Shown At Annual Meet

BY DENNIS BLOUNT
With Staff
Addressing the Annual Workshop on Geriatric Research recently at the University of Maryland, Dr. G. G. Goss, M.D., executive director of the Rehabilitation Institute, showed a new device for the arm.

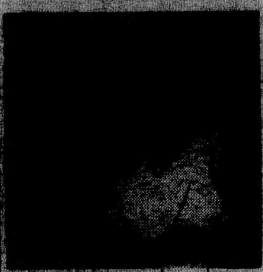

Dr. Goss, who is in Russia, showed a device which enables an individual to perform most daily living activities comparable to the function of normal human hands. The apparatus is a unique and valuable contribution in the development of modern prostheses.

Some six hundred persons including medical and scientific specialists crowded the auditorium to see the improved Canadian model operated by simple skin contact as electrodes attached to the forearm of the device (which also houses the motor driven parts) relayed power for desired action of the hand and finger use in grasping, lifting, pinching and the extension and bending of the prosthetic arm as well as to de-energize and stop the motor.

The pinch force of the Bio Electric finger force was reported to have a 4 lb. grip to a 7 lb. weight which could also be reduced to the delicate force of holding a glass or a pen.

Dr. Goss said that the device is a new development in the field of prosthetics and is a major step in the development of a new type of prosthetic arm which is more functional and more like a natural arm.

Mr. Robinson will confer with high school guidance counselors and students and work with local Yale alumni groups throughout a wide area, including New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Canada, according to report by Yale's admissions officer made last week.

Mr. Robinson attended Yale from 1956 to 1960, when he worked as a research associate in virology.

He had been a community school coordinator with the New Haven Board of Education before joining the Yale admissions office.

If human beings knew half what they think they know, the world would be much better off today.

"Few of these acts of violence have resulted in prosecutions; in those that have, a minimal number of convictions have been obtained," the memo said.

There would be a much greater chance that these guilty of such crimes would be meted justice in a Federal court, the memo stated.

Federal prosecutors and investigators are part of the Department of Justice "and their devotion to civil rights can be assured," the memo said.

Essex claimed another election victory in the re-election of Charles A. Matthews, Deputy Director of the Essex County Board of Freeholders. He lead the three man slate of Freeholder candidates with a vote of 140,212. Matthews is in line for appointment as the first Negro Director of the Essex County Board of Freeholders.

George C. Richardson, former Assemblyman who heads the United Freedom Party ticket received 10,400 votes in defeat. In the South Ward he received 2,837 while in the Central Ward where Ellis Ward is chairman Richardson received only 1,641 votes.

Next to ingratitude, the most painful thing to bear is gratitude.

a public hearing on charges of racially discriminatory programming made against the station.

The civil liberties organization disclosed this week that it has submitted a friend-of-the-court brief to the appellate court in support of the United Church of Christ, Aaron Henry, president of the Mississippi Branch of the NAACP, and the Reverend Robert L. T. Smith. The UCC represents a group of residents of the Jackson area who, in 1964, opposed FCC's renewal of WLBT's license. They claimed that the station in all its programs on racial questions, favored segregation, and never presented the integrationist point of view. The United Church of Christ petition requested that a public hearing be held to determine whether the license should be renewed. The FCC did not grant the hearing but renewed WLBT's license for one year on condition that the station agree to desegregate its programming and to accept the FCC's racial rights guidelines for news and interviews.
